WaterStone Bank Receives “Top Workplace” Honors

The Milwaukee Journal Sentinel recently published its first annual “Top Workplaces” special edition. This report recognizes organizations that are working hard to look after their employees.

WaterStone Bank, a bank that has been a pillar in the greater Milwaukee community for nearly 90 years, is ranked as a “Top Workplace” because of committed and valued employees. Seventy-eight percent of WaterStone’s employees responded to the elective survey that focused on employer communication, management and the employee’s overall happiness in his or her current position.

The financial industry has had a rocky couple of years amid this fragile economy and political landscape. The survey concluded that through the public’s skepticism and call for cutbacks industry-wide, WaterStone’s employees have remained steadfast and committed to their customers, communities, and to WaterStone Bank in large part because they feel valued by their employer.

“Our employees continue to rise to the challenges presented by the current economic environment,” commented Doug Gordon, President and CEO of WaterStone Bank. “They never lose focus on serving their customers and communities.”

WaterStone is known for providing great service to its customers, but the Bank also provides employees with a great work environment, opportunities for personal and professional development and exemplary benefits. WaterStone understands the importance of finding the balance between work and home, and addresses those needs with flexible schedules, on-site workout facilities, and passes and discounts to area attractions, among other work/life options.

Gordon went on to say, “This employee group has banded together with a vision; not one of just surviving, but one of being the premier bank in Southeastern Wisconsin. I’m grateful for their hard work and dedication, and I’m very proud to be their partner.”

Established in 1921, WaterStone Bank is a financial institution with offices in Wauwatosa, Franklin/Hales Corners, Germantown/Menomonee Falls, Oak Creek, Oconomowoc/Lake Country, Pewaukee, Waukesha/Brookfield, and West Allis.
