WaterStone Bank Receives Top Workplaces Award

WAUWATOSA, Wis. — 5/2/2022 — The Milwaukee Journal Sentinel names WaterStone Bank a recipient of 2022 Top Workplaces Award.

For the past thirteen years, the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel has collaborated with Energage, a workplace consulting firm based out of Philadelphia, to survey employees of southeastern Wisconsin companies and award the Top Workplaces honor. All Top Workplaces awards are based solely on employee feedback, making the award one of the most credible employer recognition programs.

Energage's employee feedback survey analyzes job satisfaction and engagement along with the values and organizational health of the company. The process aims to capture several aspects of workplace culture including alignment, performance and connection, to name a few.

"The most valuable asset of WaterStone Bank is its employees," said Doug Gordon, CEO of WaterStone Bank. "We hire great people and give them the freedom to be exceptional. Being a great place to work is the difference between a good company and a great company."

In addition to being known for its excellent customer service and robust charitable foundation, the bank provides employees with a flexible work environment, opportunities for personal and professional development and exemplary benefits.
